Meet the Instructor

KIM SCANLAN

PROJECT DIRECTOR WITH CVWBC

Kim has dabbled in many areas of interest before settling at the women's center: she was a manifest processor for all overseas flights from the orient to the US for UPS in Alaska, she was an Assistant Agent for a major life insurance company, but her real love was the hospitality industry, where she spent 25 years as the dining room manager of a fine dining restaurant in Anchorage, Alaska. Kim was a business owner in Alaska as well; she was part of a partnership who owned three video stores – and Kim and her husband were the “lucky” part of the partnership that were bought out before the world was invaded by videos in every grocery store and street corner. She has a husband to whom she has been married for nearly forty years, a beautiful daughter, and enjoys the Coachella Valley EXCEPT in these “dog days of summer”.
